PLC Notes: Correction: I posted the wrong date last week for the Mixed choir rehearsal! So sorry!! The rehearsal for the Mixed Choir will be next Sunday, November 13th after Mass. The new choir will lead us for the first time on Sunday, November 20th.

As a Faith Community, we welcome the infant daughter of Cassandra Clare Hellmich, into our parish family. Maya Mae Rose will be baptized this morning immediately following Mass. Please support Cassie with your prayers and well wishes.

UNITED CATHOLIC APPEAL: You might note from the article in the weekly Criterion that today is “Intention weekend” for United Catholic Appeal. Material mailed to us from the Archdiocese designates next weekend, November 13, as United Catholic Appeal pledge weekend. Pledge cards have been mailed to your home address and will be collected next Sunday. If you have not received your pledge card or have misplaced it, more will be available in the pews next weekend. The theme for this year is “Christ our Hope.” We are united with all members of the Archdiocese in supporting the various ministries and services of the archdiocese. We ask for your prayerful consideration of all the ways we are able to bring the message of Hope to our dioceses through prayer and financial support.

Giving Tree – As in years past, the Giving Tree tradition will be initiated the weekend before Thanksgiving, so that folks have time to choose an ornament, and purchase gifts over the holiday weekend. Look for more exciting details next Sunday! Thank you to Melea Gault for coordinating this program and leading us into the spirit of giving!

Concerning cremation: A recent reminder has been received from the Vatican with instruction on the burial of cremains. The rules that govern cremation after death for the Catholic Church are actually NOT changing. Since 1963 the church has allowed cremation. But once again the church is stressing the importance of burying the remains of the faithful. For more information on this topic, or to receive answers to your immediate questions, please call the parish office. The Archdiocese has provided the link to the entire document from the Vatican.
