"Mary has produced, together with the Holy Ghost, the greatest thing which has been or ever will be—a God-Man; and she will consequently produce the greatest saints that there will be in the end of time."

~ Louis de Montfort

He has risen.

This sentence can mean two very contradictory things. It might express skepticism, similar to "You've got to be kidding!" Or we might marvel at something we think is magnificent, far beyond our expectations. Here, it means "I'm speechless!"

Lest we think that the empty tomb alone is proof of Jesus' resurrection, even his closest friends had initial problems with the idea.

When Mary of Magdala found the tomb empty, she did not immediately conclude that Jesus had risen. She thought his body had been taken. Peter described how, later, several of Jesus' followers experienced him alive. This experience certainly changed their thinking. Like Peter, they then went out and proclaimed the truth of the resurrection. However, only those who had the experience were sure. Neither empty tomb nor someone else's personal experience is by itself certain evidence of the resurrection. Then, what is?

We find the beginning of an answer in the even later writing of Paul. Speaking to the Colossians, he says, "For you have died, and your life is hidden with Christ in God" (3:3). In other words, the real proof of the resurrection is the faith of centuries of Christians whose lives have been changed by that faith. In other words, the way you and I live proclaims whether Jesus is alive and well in us. Sr. Dianne Bergant, CSA

A bit of Humor

The catechist asked her class of seven-year-olds-. "If I sold my house and my car, had a big garage sale and gave all my money to the church, would that get me into heaven?"

"NO!" answered all the children.

" If I cleaned the church every day, mowed the yard and kept everything neat and tidy, would that get me into heaven?"

Again, they answered, "NO!"

"Well ,then, if I was kind to animals and gave candy to all the children, and loved everyone, would that get me into heaven?"

Again, they all answered, "NO"!!

Perplexed, the woman continued,"Then how can I get into heaven?"

One of the boys shouted out, " YOU GOTTA BE DEAD!"
