Reading reflections: 24th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Relating our relationship with the heavenly Father, if we determine what is sinful, and do not go by what God thinks, we are in trouble. Sin has not disappeared! Have I given up the diligent search for perfection? Am I failing to be the kind of person I should be in God's eyes? Am I just indifferent? Today's Bible readings deal with God's clemency and our willingness to admit that we were wrong as a condition for restoring a broken relationship.

A Little Humor:

At the pearly gates, St. Peter greeted a priest and a congressman and gave them their room assignments.

"Father, here are the keys to one of our nicest efficiency units," Peter said with a smile. "And for you, Mr. Congressman, here are the keys to our finest penthouse suite."

The priest didn't want to appear disappointed, but the look on his face gave it away. St. Peter took him aside and said, "Listen, Father, priests are a dime a dozen up here, but this is the first congressman we've ever seen."
